

Privacy Policy

ChildBuilders respects the privacy and personal information of its contributors and constituents. ChildBuilders does not share with third parties any financial or personal information you provide when making a donation or utilizing our services except (1) to the extent required by law, (2) to acknowledge donations in our publications and (3) to share the names and addresses of its contributors and constituents with other non-profit organizations for the purposes of continuing education programs or community event promotion.

If you wish to limit the use of your information or opt out of receiving e-mail or print materials from our organization, please contact at 713-400-1155 or <mailto:childbuilders@childbuilders.org>